

Research Update:

DRAFT: French Social Security Agency ACOSS

'AA/A-1' Ratings Affirmed; Outlook Stable

April 15, 2019

S&PGR Affirms ACOSS 'AA/A-1+'; Outlook Stable

Overview

- We think Agence Centrale des Organismes de Sécurité Sociale (ACOSS) plays a critical role for the French government in collecting and redistributing France's general scheme social security contributions and closing cash flow gaps through short-term funding only, excluding any borrowing of more than one year as per law.
- ACOSS' status as a state public agency implies strong state supervision and support, and we believe there is an almost certain likelihood that the French government would provide timely and sufficient extraordinary support to ACOSS if needed.
- Consequently, we are affirming our 'AA/A-1+' ratings on ACOSS.
- The stable outlook reflects that on France.

Rating Action

On April XX, 2019, S&P Global Ratings affirmed its 'AA/A-1+' long- and short-term issuer credit rating on France's central social security agency, Agence Centrale des Organismes de Sécurité Sociale (ACOSS). The outlook is stable.

At the same time, we affirmed our 'A-1+' issue ratings on ACOSS' €40 billion French commercial paper (NEU CP) program and €40 billion Euro commercial paper (CP) program.

Rationale

We equalize our rating on ACOSS with those on France (unsolicited, AA/Stable/A-1+) because, based on our view of ACOSS' critical role for and integral link with the French government, we consider that there is an almost certain likelihood that the government would provide timely and sufficient extraordinary support to ACOSS in the event of financial distress.

Moreover, we do not see the likelihood of government support as subject to transition risk, and therefore expect the ratings and outlook on ACOSS will move in line with those on France.

PRIMARY CREDIT ANALYST

Mehdi Fadli
Paris
(33) 1-4420-6706
mehdi.fadli
@spglobal.com

SECONDARY CONTACT

Christophe Dore
Paris
(33) 1-4420-6665
christophe.dore
@spglobal.com

ADDITIONAL CONTACT

EMEA Sovereign and IPF
SovereignIPF
@spglobal.com

Research Update: French Social Security Agency ACOSS 'AA/A-1' Ratings Affirmed; Outlook Stable

Furthermore, we consider that the French government's limited level of contingent liabilities would not constrain its capacity and willingness to support ACOSS in a timely manner if the agency was in financial distress. More generally, we don't consider the government's general propensity to support the government-related entity (GRE) sector as doubtful.

France's constitutional laws, set in 1945, safeguard the French population's right to receive social protection. We consequently expect ACOSS' role for the French government will remain critical. ACOSS' role primarily consists of managing France's social security general scheme cash flows by supervising and centralizing the collection of contributions, ensuring the timely redistribution of social benefits, and closing cash flow gaps through short-term funding only. Subsequently, Caisse d'Amortissement de la Dette Sociale (CADES; the social security debt amortization fund, which redeems France's social security debt) is in charge of refinancing and amortizing accumulated Social Security System (SSS) deficits. This explains why ACOSS legally focuses only on short-term funding, rather than any long-term borrowings (more than one year).

Social transfers comprise more than one-half of health, work accident, and illness benefits; one-third old age pensions; and the rest is family benefits. These transfers benefit the majority of French people and their timely payment, especially of pensions, is crucial. General scheme expenditures accounted for about 70% of France's total social security expenditure and about 16% of GDP in 2018. We also believe a default of the entity would significantly damage the central government's reputation.

As part of the French SSS, ACOSS was set up in 1967 as a state public administrative agency (Établissement Public à Caractère Administratif; EPA). Owing to this status, we view the government as ultimately responsible for ACOSS' solvency. The agency's legal status, mission, and funding are precisely framed by law, which, in our opinion, entails an integral link between ACOSS and the French government. We don't anticipate any change in ACOSS' legal status.

The Ministry of Solidarity and Health and the Ministry of Economy and Finance provide strong and broad state supervision of ACOSS on a daily basis. ACOSS' general director is appointed by decree and reports directly to the ministries. The general director's main mandate is to strictly implement the central government's decisions and policies on the SSS. Since 1996, ACOSS has signed multiyear contracts with the government laying out its objectives. ACOSS and the central government signed a new contract for 2018-2022 with a special focus on digital transformation and reinforcing the service provided to SSS contributors.

As part of the tight framework regulating ACOSS' activities, the French parliament sets ACOSS' external funding ceiling in its Social Security Funding Laws. For 2019, ACOSS' external funding ceiling is set at €38 billion, like in 2018. Social security accounts continue to improve and ACOSS' annual cash balance change in 2018 was positive for the first time since 2001. The Social Security Funding Law for 2019 has allowed some exceptions to article L 131.7 of the Social Security Code that states the central government must fully compensate all reductions or exemptions in social security contributions via its budget. This will partly weight on ACOSS' funding needs but we expect the central government will monitor the magnitude of these exceptions, and that this will not prevent ACOSS posting a positive annual cash balance in 2019. Moreover, the central government has planned new debt transfers of up to €15 billion of from ACOSS to CADES during 2020-2022, testifying to the ongoing financial support extended by the state through CADES.

Liquidity

ACOSS' cash management is sophisticated, with clear and efficient policies and procedures. It is guided by two main objectives: security and predictability. ACOSS has significantly increased the predictability of its cash inflows by securing hundreds of agreements with counterparties that specify the exact day of payment. ACOSS' strictly monitors its cash outflows through information technology systems that set the dates for drawings, and is continuously developing a system of netting cash flows with partners, limiting intraday liquidity risk. Consequently, ACOSS benefits from a highly predictable cash flow planning, with very limited deviations when compared to actual cash flow.

Research Update: French Social Security Agency ACOSS 'AA/A-1' Ratings Affirmed; Outlook Stable

ACOSS' funding strategy for 2019 is in line with that in 2018. It prioritizes the diversification of liquidity sources through three main channels: cash pooling with social security entities; short-term funding from state agencies (chiefly Agence France Tresor and CADES); and direct issuance of only short-term notes on the financial market via NEU CP and Euro CP programs of €40 billion each, since ACOSS is prohibited by law from issuing long-term debt. In 2019, ACOSS will continue to create a liquidity base with its Euro CP program (average issuance maturity of 51 days in 2018) and adjusting its liquidity needs with its NEU CP program (average issuance maturity of 13 days in 2018). Moreover, ACOSS has signed a new convention with Caisse des Dépôts et Consignations (CDC; a public-sector financial institution mandated with conducting specific public missions) for 2018-2022, providing strong visibility and security regarding liquidity and funding. CDC could fund ACOSS with up to €11 billion annually, with €7 billion via three-to-12-month loans and up to €4 billion in short-term loans thanks to CDC's commitment to buy NEU CPs issued by ACOSS. ACOSS has again decided to avoid medium-term funding in 2019, given its relatively stable funding needs and the favorable interest rate environment. ACOSS also has two back-up deposit accounts at Banque de France (currently €700 million) and CDC (currently not used).

It is very unlikely, in our opinion, that ACOSS will face liquidity stress given its tight management of cash flows and its back-up liquidity cushions. Moreover, ACOSS secures its short-term funding well in advance of required payments. In addition, we consider part of ACOSS' payments to be deferrable for a short period, if needed, particularly some health insurance benefits. We would not expect any deferral of pension payments.

We believe that, as a last resort, ACOSS would have prompt access to emergency funding from the French treasury, either through purchases of CP, as allowed for EPAs under France's finance law, or through funding from the state's public debt fund, Caisse de la Dette Publique. We also believe that ACOSS would anticipate well in advance any need for, and swiftly obtain, a further extension of its annual borrowing ceiling, as was the case in July 2009.

Outlook

The stable outlook on ACOSS reflects our stable outlook on France. We believe that ACOSS will retain its critical role for and integral link with France. We therefore expect the ratings on ACOSS will move in line with those on the sovereign.

We could lower our ratings on ACOSS following a similar rating action on France. We could also lower the ratings if we believe that ACOSS no longer has an integral link with the government, for example, if ACOSS were to lose its EPA status or if its role were to diminish. However, we currently view these developments as very unlikely.

Conversely, we could raise the long-term rating if France's credit quality were to improve and the likelihood of support for ACOSS remained almost certain.

Related Criteria

- General Criteria: Methodology For Linking Long-Term And Short-Term Ratings, April 7, 2017
- General Criteria: Rating Government-Related Entities: Methodology And Assumptions, March 25, 2015
- General Criteria: Use Of CreditWatch And Outlooks, Sept. 14, 2009

Related Research

- Summary: France, April 5, 2019

Ratings List

Certain terms used in this report, particularly certain adjectives used to express our view on rating relevant factors, have specific meanings ascribed to them in our criteria, and should therefore be read in conjunction with such criteria. Please see Ratings Criteria at www.standardandpoors.com for further information. Complete ratings information is available to subscribers of RatingsDirect at www.capitaliq.com. All ratings affected by this rating action can be found on S&P Global Ratings' public website at www.standardandpoors.com. Use the Ratings search box located in the left column. Alternatively, call one of the following S&P Global Ratings numbers: Client Support Europe (44) 20-7176-7176; London Press Office (44) 20-7176-3605; Paris (33) 1-4420-6708; Frankfurt (49) 69-33-999-225; Stockholm (46) 8-440-5914; or Moscow 7 (495) 783-4009.

Copyright © 2019 by Standard & Poor's Financial Services LLC. All rights reserved.

No content (including ratings, credit-related analyses and data, valuations, model, software or other application or output therefrom) or any part thereof (Content) may be modified, reverse engineered, reproduced or distributed in any form by any means, or stored in a database or retrieval system, without the prior written permission of Standard & Poor's Financial Services LLC or its affiliates (collectively, S&P). The Content shall not be used for any unlawful or unauthorized purposes. S&P and any third-party providers, as well as their directors, officers, shareholders, employees or agents (collectively S&P Parties) do not guarantee the accuracy, completeness, timeliness or availability of the Content. S&P Parties are not responsible for any errors or omissions (negligent or otherwise), regardless of the cause, for the results obtained from the use of the Content, or for the security or maintenance of any data input by the user. The Content is provided on an "as is" basis. S&P PARTIES DISCLAIM ANY AND ALL EXPRESS OR IMPLIED WARRANTIES, INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, ANY WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE OR USE, FREEDOM FROM BUGS, SOFTWARE ERRORS OR DEFECTS, THAT THE CONTENT'S FUNCTIONING WILL BE UNINTERRUPTED OR THAT THE CONTENT WILL OPERATE WITH ANY SOFTWARE OR HARDWARE CONFIGURATION. In no event shall S&P Parties be liable to any party for any direct, indirect, incidental, exemplary, compensatory, punitive, special or consequential damages, costs, expenses, legal fees, or losses (including, without limitation, lost income or lost profits and opportunity costs or losses caused by negligence) in connection with any use of the Content even if advised of the possibility of such damages.

Credit-related and other analyses, including ratings, and statements in the Content are statements of opinion as of the date they are expressed and not statements of fact. S&P's opinions, analyses, and rating acknowledgment decisions (described below) are not recommendations to purchase, hold, or sell any securities or to make any investment decisions, and do not address the suitability of any security. S&P assumes no obligation to update the Content following publication in any form or format. The Content should not be relied on and is not a substitute for the skill, judgment and experience of the user, its management, employees, advisors and/or clients when making investment and other business decisions. S&P does not act as a fiduciary or an investment advisor except where registered as such. While S&P has obtained information from sources it believes to be reliable, S&P does not perform an audit and undertakes no duty of due diligence or independent verification of any information it receives. Rating-related publications may be published for a variety of reasons that are not necessarily dependent on action by rating committees, including, but not limited to, the publication of a periodic update on a credit rating and related analyses.

To the extent that regulatory authorities allow a rating agency to acknowledge in one jurisdiction a rating issued in another jurisdiction for certain regulatory purposes, S&P reserves the right to assign, withdraw, or suspend such acknowledgement at any time and in its sole discretion. S&P Parties disclaim any duty whatsoever arising out of the assignment, withdrawal, or suspension of an acknowledgment as well as any liability for any damage alleged to have been suffered on account thereof.

S&P keeps certain activities of its business units separate from each other in order to preserve the independence and objectivity of their respective activities. As a result, certain business units of S&P may have information that is not available to other S&P business units. S&P has established policies and procedures to maintain the confidentiality of certain nonpublic information received in connection with each analytical process.

S&P may receive compensation for its ratings and certain analyses, normally from issuers or underwriters of securities or from obligors. S&P reserves the right to disseminate its opinions and analyses. S&P's public ratings and analyses are made available on its Web sites, www.standardandpoors.com (free of charge), and www.capitaliq.com (subscription), and may be distributed through other means, including via S&P publications and third-party redistributors. Additional information about our ratings fees is available at www.standardandpoors.com/usratingsfees.

STANDARD & POOR'S, S&P and RATINGSDIRECT are registered trademarks of Standard & Poor's Financial Services LLC.